Note: The last year for new students to apply for the Missouri Income Tax Credit is the 2017-2018 academic year, as this program is ending. Students who receive the credit by the 2017-2018 year may continue to receive the benefit each year, so long as they meet the eligibility requirements, complete the form by the deadline, and maintain continuous enrollment at Southeast.

A student may receive credit toward non-resident tuition based on actual Missouri income tax paid either by the student or the parents (if the student is considered a dependent student for financial aid purposes). The tax credit cannot exceed the difference between resident and non-resident tuition and cannot exceed the amount of taxes paid for the applicable tax year. Based on the 2016-2017 tuition rates, Undergraduate fee waivers cannot exceed $179.50 per credit hour; $226.00 per credit hour for Graduate coursework.

The credit is based on income tax paid during the previous year (i.e. 2015) and may only be used for the current academic year (i.e. 2016-2017). The credit will be applied first to the Fall semester, with any excess credit applied to the Spring and/or Summer semesters at Southeast. A student cannot receive both a scholarship and Missouri Income Tax Credit to cover the same non-resident fees (i.e. Regents, Midwest Achievement Award). If several students from the same family request a credit, the credit will be divided in an equitable manner among the students. No tax other than Missouri State Income Tax shall be taken into account. A tax credit may not be applied to any other fees or obligations. Additional information may be requested if necessary.

I hereby request that the attached documented Missouri Tax Credit for non-resident fees be processed by Southeast Missouri State University.
